ANSEL ADAMS

Senator Farr Led Local Group At Conference On State's Natural Beauty

Led by Senator Fred Farr of Carmel, local conservationists and planners formed a notable group at the Governor's Conference On Natural Beauty in Los Angeles yesterday and on Tuesday.

Long a leader in the conservation movement on national and state levels, Senator Farr was one of the planners of the conference and chairman of an panel discussion on highway design, scenic roads and parkways. He also made the introductory remarks preceding Governor Edmund G. Brown's closing address at a banquet in the Ambassador Hotel last night.

Chairmen of the conference were Mrs. Brown and Charles S. Jones, president of Richfield Oil Company. At the opening session of the conference, the governor's wife paid special tribute to Ansel Adams of Carmel Highlands, noted nature photographer and conservationist, who took active part in planning the conference which he attended.

Nathaniel Owings of Big Sur, architect and planner, was one of the 105 experts on various aspects of California's natural and man-made beauty who participated in a series of 16 panel discussions. His wife, Margaret, a member of the state park commission, also took part in the discussions.

Carmel architect Will Shaw attended yesterday's conference sessions. He is executive director of The Foundation for Environmental Living which used Ansel Adams' photographs in an outstanding exhibit at the conference. Other local directors of this organization are Senator Farr, Mr. Adams, Dr. Remsen Bird of Carmel and Nicholas Roosevelt of Big Sur.

Mrs. Robert McNamara, wife of the U.S. Secretary of Defense, represented Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson at the Los Angeles conference which was a follow-up to Mrs. Johnson's White House Conference on Beauty. Mrs. McNamara praised California's leadership in the scenic highway program in which Senator Farr took a leading role.

Asked to be conference speakers were U.S. Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall and Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas.

Invited to the conference but unable to get away was Monterey County Supervisor Thomson J. Hudson of Point Lobos.

Carmel Boy Soloist With Symphony For Free Youth Concert

A youth concert performance by the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra, directed by John Gosling, will be presented by the Junior League of the Monterey Peninsula, Inc. on Saturday in Sunset Center auditorium at 10 a.m. for Carmel area children.

Guest soloist will be Robert Luis Ramos of Carmel, winner of the 1965 Young Artists Auditions sponsored by the Junior League. He will play Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue."

This is the 12th year for this series of free concerts to help foster an interest in good, live music among the children and young people of Monterey County.

The program is selected for youngsters in the fourth through ninth grades.

THE WINNER

Mrs. Robert McGinnis is the winner of a free subscription to the Pine Cone. She correctly identified all five men in a picture on the front page of last week's issue, also told where they were, what they were talking about, and when.

However, Mrs. McGinnis truthfully admits she obtained her information from Mark Raggett one of the men in the picture. The others were Robert Waldo Hicks, Fred Stanley, Howard Lockwood and Fred Hollenbeck. They were at a Lions Club outing in Carmel Valley 19 years ago. Wine, women and song were under discussion. Another picture in the series to be identified will be published shortly.

Suburban Area Group Re-Elects Officers

At a meeting Tuesday night of the Carmel Suburban Area Council, civic activities of the group were highly commended and endorsements approved to continue such activities.

This meeting was the first anniversary of the council and an election of officers for the coming year was held. John S. Coates, chairman, Harold C. Arnot, vice chairman, and Sue Coates, secretary-treasurer, were unanimously chosen to succeed themselves.

The Carmel Suburban Area Council was created as an organization for discussion of problems that confront citizens living in the subdivisions contiguous to Carmel. Action on decisions is also a part of the council's activities.

During the past year, action was taken to provide lacking fire equipment to fight structural fires in the council area. The council petitioned the Monterey County Board of Supervisors, through each subdivision, last November to create a fire-service area taking in the contiguous area. The board agreed and plans now are about completed to augment the equipment housed at the California State Forestry Service firehouse on Carmel Hill. Fire hydrants are also being installed at strategic distances apart in the unincorporated areas without this provision.

This action, according to the council, combats the criticism of several members of the board of supervisors and Carmel City Council that urban areas were being assessed for suburban services. As other problems present themselves the Suburban Area Council is now well organized to meet them and will preserve the "wonderful freedom of suburban living," council members maintain.

Arrangements have been made with the Carmel Unified School District to hold monthly meetings in either the library or the drama room of Carmel Middle School. These meetings fall upon the first Monday of each month at 7:45 p.m. Area residents are invited.

MIDDLE SCHOOL PARENTS' PROGRAM

The Parent-Faculty Club of Carmel Middle School will meet in the Stuart Mitchell Library on Tuesday at 8 p.m. Members of the science department will explain their program at the school, including subjects encompassed and methods by which children are taught at the four different grade levels.

Of special interest will be a showing of slides taken of the sixth grade Outdoors Educational Program.

Preserve Carmel, No Street Lights Say Businessmen

During last night's round of the street lighting controversy, businessmen stood staunchly behind the character of Carmel as opposed to progress and proposed that no street illumination be provided by the city during the Bing Crosby golf tournament next week.

Instead, the streets in the commercial area should be illuminated only by all-night window lighting emanating from business premises. Should this type of street illumination prove satisfactory during the trial period, steps to implement permanent lighting of this nature could be taken, they proposed.

LANTERN LIGHTS

However, later in the evening, some of the businessmen did favor a counter proposal for a lantern fixture atop a 12-foot high black pole. This type of street lighting is General Electric Company's new "Town and Country" lantern.

Peter R. Darnton, P.G.&E. lighting engineer, proposed these lights which employ 75-watt improved mercury lamps with clear golden lens panels on sides not facing streets and buildings; white diffusing panels to shed brighter light on streets and sidewalks on the other two sides.

These lights could be placed 114 feet apart on alternate sides of the street, he suggested, and showed a diagram for the Dolores Street block between Ocean and Seventh avenues with nine such lights. This block is the first area where underground wiring has been installed in the commercial zone and where P.G.&E. utility poles soon will be removed.

Initial cost of the lantern lights to the city would be $1,545. Annual operating cost would amount to $383.40. These costs compare favorably with the $1,911 initial cost and $255 annual operating cost of the 30-foot high poles with overhanging 6,000 candlepower incandescent lamps approved by the city council in October.

NO LIGHTS

Former Mayor Frank Putnam led off the light discussion last night. He told Vice-Mayor James C. Buffington and Councilman Stephen Grant, the council's lands and improvements committee, that, without exception, every one of the 50 persons he interviewed was against street lighting except, possibly, gas lamps.

"You will remove the last vestige of the Carmel we like to know, and love, we may as well turn up our heels and quit," he declared in reference to standardized street illumination. Mr. Putnam was convinced police problems could be solved without lighting.

WINDOW LIGHTING

Mel Campbell, president of the Carmel Business Association, said last week all nine directors of this group present at a meeting favored all-night window lighting for street illumination during the Crosby tournament. Later, the three absent members concurred with this proposal, he added.

Trustees Decide On 70 Cent Rise In School Taxes

Trustees of the Carmel Unified School District, last night, unanimously passed a resolution to increase the general tax limit by 70 cents over the existing $2.15 for a period of five years beginning July 1.

In seconding the motion, Clerk of the Board Clayton Neill Jr. commented that when elected, most members, including himself, were against raising taxes but now accept the necessity of doing so.

If approved by the voters on March 29, the date set for an election, the new general tax rate will be $2.85 per $100 assessed valuation, exclusive of special purpose levies.

Of the recommended 70-cent increase, it was pointed out by Superintendent Medill Bair and board members, 40 cents is needed simply to maintain the present program.

Before considering the resolution, trustees and an audience of approximately 50 people heard Mr. Bair describe the district's problems and its needs. Within financial limits, the district has attempted to operate the schools in terms of the board's philosophy, stressing intellectual development of children and providing a program of individual instruction so that each child may learn to the limit of his capacity. Unnecessary practices have been cut from the budget and available funds placed where the board feels they should be—in the instruction account.

However, he continued, providing excellence and individual instruction demands a teaching staff to do the job, as well as adequate space and instructional materials. With an additional 125 students each year since 1963, the number of teachers remains the same—139. While the salary scale has been raised, it is not enough to keep outstanding teachers here nor to attract new ones, and the cost of living, particularly in housing, works a hardship on teachers. The district cannot maintain the quality it has, nor its teachers.

WILLIAM E. COLBY MEMORIAL

The late William E. Colby, for years a member of the Big Sur community, is being honored in a very fitting and enduring way by the Sierra Club, an organization that he served for over a half a century. After Mr. Colby's death last year, officers of the club felt that a memorial to their active and vital member was imperative. Thus it was that the William E. Colby Memorial Library was established. The library, which is described "as a working memorial" since Mr. Colby was always known as a "worker," is now nearing completion at the Sierra Club's headquarters in Mills Tower, San Francisco.

William E. Colby served as a member of the board of directors of the Sierra Club for 49 years. He was the club's third president following its founder John Muir, and Joseph N. LeConte. He initiated the outings programs, led many trips and was chairman of the first outings committee and served in that office from 1901 until 1937.

U.S. AUTO TRIP

Six thousand miles of travel by automobile, halfway across the United States and return, was the happy experience of Pat and Dick Hartford of Big Sur and their son, Alex, during a year-end vacation.

The Hartfords took the middle route across the country going via Nevada, Wyoming, Greeley and Denver, Colorado, then on to Nebraska and the town of Kearney where they gathered at Christmas with Mrs. Hartford's mother, Mrs. P. A. Sullivan. It was a snow-filled, white and beautiful Christmas for them.

After the holiday, Alex, a sophomore at Carmel High School, flew home in time for opening of school. Mr. and Mrs. Hartford continued their trip, going southward, through the Ozarks and Missouri to Memphis, Tennessee, which Mr. Hartford describes as one of the "most attractive cities we visited." They were in New Orleans for several days, including New Year's Eve, when the town "really turned out for a celebration." The Hartfords stayed in the French Quarter and were enchanted with the lovely music they heard and with the happy attitude of those they met. "We loved New Orleans—it was great," says Dick Hartford.

They drove through Dallas and Houston, Texas, New Mexico and Las Vegas. "It was a perfect time of year," according to Hartford, "no problem with reservations, little traffic and we didn't mind the weather, in fact enjoyed it, though it ranged from 24 degrees in Wells, Nevada, to 72 degrees in New Orleans."

LOPEZ FAMILY NEWS

News has reached the Lopez family of Big Sur that Miguel Lopez will be home on a 20-day leave from the U.S. Navy late next month and the date of February 26 has been set for his marriage to Sharon Sherman of Alderwood, near Seattle, Washington.

Miguel is a Yeoman 3rd class stationed at Pearl Harbor, Honolulu, and Miss Sherman is also at Pearl Harbor, serving as a Navy WAVE.

Miguel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raphael Lopez and his sister, Rosita, live at Rancho Grande, Big Sur, a 600-acre ranch in a magnificent coastal setting which has been the Lopez home for over 20 years.

Miguel's and Rosita's brothers, twins, Juan and Julian, are also in the service of our country. Juan is in the U.S. Army with the 1st Cavalry Division in Viet Nam. A steady flow of letters go between Juan, his parents and sister, letters that indicate his morale is high and that news from home is the best part of each day.

Julian is nearer home, stationed at March Air Force Base, Riverside, a member of the U.S. Air Force.

New Pastor From Colorado For Church Of The Wayfarer

Announcement of the selection of a new pastor for the Church of the Wayfarer was made Monday night during a meeting of the church's official board. Assigned to the Methodist church in Carmel by Bishop Donald Harvey Tippet of San Francisco at the request of the pastoral relations committee of the church, headed by Mrs. A. H. Sheldrup, is the Reverend Alexander C. Bryans of Denver, Colorado.

His appointment will be effective February 1. He will succeed the Reverend Lawrence K. Whitfield, pastor of the Church of the Wayfarer for the past 18 months, who left Carmel on January 1 to be chaplain of the Good Samaritan Hospital in San Jose.

Son of a Methodist minister, Reverend Bryans was born in 1911 in Evanston, Illinois. Most of his youth was spent in midwestern states.

After receiving an A.B. degree from the University of Denver and a master's degree in theology from the Iliff School of Theology in Denver, he did graduate work at the University of Colorado and Oxford University, England.

Reverend Bryans is now serving his twenty-second year as pastor of the University Park Methodist Church in Denver. In this time, membership of the church has grown from 700 to 2,000 persons. The church buildings are valued at $1 million.

In addition to his pastoral duties, Reverend Bryans has taught courses in preaching and Christian worship for the past 20 years at the Iliff School of Theology, served for 15 years as registrar of the Rocky Mountain Conference of the Methodist Church and is now president of the board of the Methodist Pension Fund of the conference.

He is a 32nd degree Mason and a member of the Denver Civitan Service Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryans have three sons, one in college, one in high school and one in junior high school.

Free Sierra Club Film Presentation

Retracing the route of the "Gold Rush of 1898," traversing the old White Pass and travelling over 450 miles down the Yukon from Whitehorse to Dawson City, were highlights of an adventurous summer trip which will be presented with slide and "live" commentary in a free public showing January 25 at 7:30 p.m. in Brey Hall, Carmel High School.

The show is being sponsored by the outing committee of the Ventana Chapter of the Sierra Club and the illustrated story will be given by members of the group of 15 who took part in the trip. Dale and Kathy Wilson of Carmel Valley and Nancy Larsen of Carmel were part of this group.

The story and film will describe the route they took, the people they met and will show many wrecked sternwheeler boats and descriptions of the work they did during the Gold Rush days, also old cabins and homes left by the miners in their haste to depart the country as the "rush" ended. Included, too, will be the part the Royal Mounted Police played in their effort to keep law and order among the settlers.

Any trip of the great North country would not be complete without views of Mount McKinley. These too will be included in the evening's free show.

Anna McCormick

Family services were held on January 5 in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea, Pacific Grove, for Miss Anna Williams McCormick who died the day before in a Peninsula nursing home after a lengthy illness.

Born in Helensburgh, Scotland, on July 27, 1892, she had lived in the United States since the 1920s and was a resident of Carmel for the past 28 years.

Widely traveled during her life, Miss McCormick came to Carmel in 1937 to make her home with her sister, the late Mrs. Minnie Gleason, and her brother-in-law, the late Captain Henry M. Gleason (USN Ret.).

She leaves a half-brother, Dr. Edward McCormick of Carmel, a niece and two nephews.

Friends wishing to remember

Miss McCormick through contributions may do so to the Ave Maria Convalescent Hospital Building Fund, 1249 Josselyn Canyon Road, Monterey.

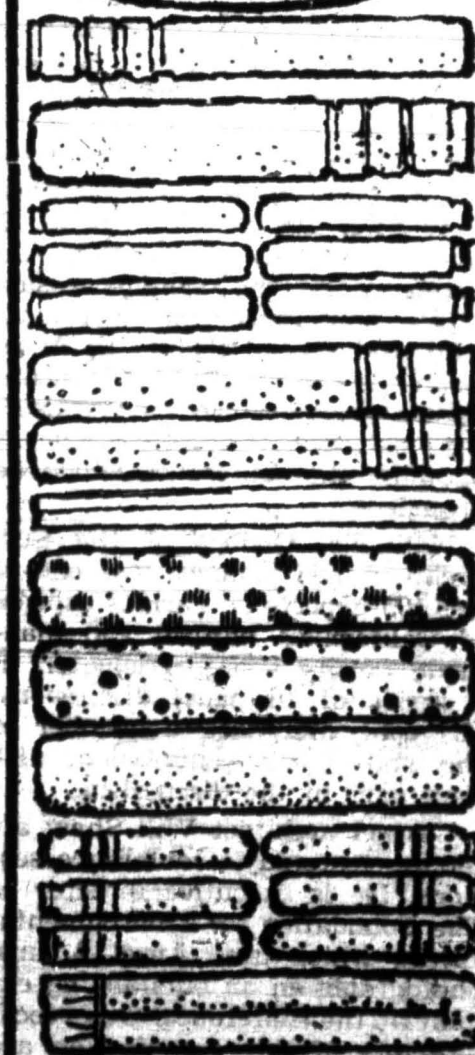

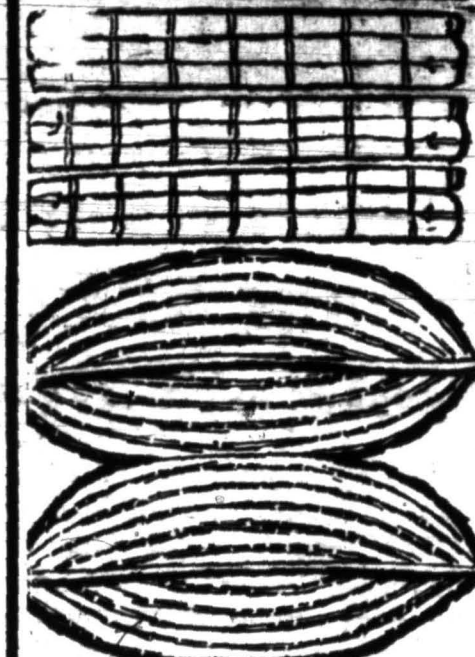

The Paul Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

She also investigated institutions of higher learning with an eye to the future, since she intends to continue her Spanish studies after graduation from the University of Santa Clara next Spring.

Dental Alumni To Meet

Dr. R. M. McArthur and Dr. William H. Trimble will attend the two-day annual meeting of the University of California Alumni Association which convenes in San Francisco on Sunday. Mrs. McArthur and Mrs. Trimble plan to accompany their husbands and to attend some of the social functions planned for the participants.

Jeff Crichton Training

Seaman Apprentice Jeff L. Crichton is attending damage controlman school at the Coast Guard Training Center in Groton, Connecticut. The four-month course is designed to provide techniques and skill employed in the use of and maintenance of damage control equipment and the preservation of watertight compartments aboard the Coast Guard ships.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Patric Crichton of Carmel, Jeff is a Carmel High School graduate and attended Monterey Peninsula College before enlisting in the Coast Guard. With luck, when he is assigned in April he will report to the service's ship based at Monterey.

Off To Sea Again

Fiction writer Robert Carney has deserted his typewriter and bicycle for the time being. On Sunday he left for San Francisco with expectations of shipping out soon as first mate in the U.S. Merchant Marine service. Bob re-activated his ticket as an officer last week and could have been aboard a vessel in Saigon within three days if he had chosen to fly immediately to Viet Nam. He decided, instead, to reinstate his radar license before returning to sea.

A U.S. Navy veteran, Bob spent ten years in the merchant marine service before retiring to live in Carmel and become a successful writer of paperback novels.

Reunion in Kansas

The Dennis Ferns of Carmel Point took advantage of Lieutenant Fern's leave from the Naval Postgraduate School to introduce their new son, Joseph Nelson, to his grandmother, Mrs. Mildred Fern, in Lindsay, Kansas. To make the family reunion complete, the junior Mrs. Fern's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Miera Jr., and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Gutierrez, came from Albuquerque, New Mexico, to join them for the holidays. The Ferns' other little boy, Dennis Jr., was present for his share of attention, too.

Mr. and Mrs. Gutierrez, who are also the new baby's godparents, were in Carmel for the baptism of their grandson, which took place in Carmel Mission Basilica in November.

Galileo Taught Here

Henry Lagorio, co-owner with his sisters, Irene and Elena, of the studio-residence which was once the Forest Hill School, has been director of the University of California Overseas Campus in Italy since last Fall. Situated in Padova, the beautiful old university is steeped in history and is particularly revered as the institution where Galileo evolved and taught his theories.

Henry and his wife, Natalie, former private secretary to U.S. Ambassador to Italy, the late James D. Zellerbach, both speak fluent Italian, as do many of the American students in the inter-cultural program. They write of their pleasure in noting the enthusiasm of the students, who attend classes with their Italian counterparts, and of the rapport between the professors and these young people. The Lagorios' apartment in Padova, where they hold weekly open house for students, is only 15 minutes from Venice, so that the city of canals is visited frequently.

Eventually, Henry and Natalie hope to make their home in Carmel, where his sisters spend their time when not in Oakland. Irene Lagorio does her serigraph work here and uses her Oakland studio for her metal sculpture.

former Honolulu neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Lino. While the Ogdens are in the Islands, their Carmel home will be occupied by the Linos, who recently returned from travel in Mexico and Europe and were guests of the Ogdens during the Christmas holidays. Also during the holidays, the two couples visited Mrs. Frances Conrad of Santa Barbara, another former Islander, who plans to move to Carmel. The Ogdens will visit friends on Maui and plan to see the new Kona Plantation in which a number of Carmelites have an interest.

Their son Dick, incidentally, has been teaching in Medellin, Colombia, as a Peace Corps member and is now on his way to Rio de Janeiro.

Joan Procter Was Married

Making their home in San Francisco are Dr. and Mrs. Edmund Jacobsen Jr., the former Joan Alice Procter of Carmel, who were married December 18 in the San Rafael Mission Chapel.

Joan, daughter of Mrs. George Edgar Nelson of Carmel and the late John A. Procter of San Francisco, attended Carmel Mission elementary school and Dominican Convent. A graduate of Stanford University, she studied in Italy last summer under the Experiment in International Living program as a student of the State University of New York.

Dr. Jacobsen is the son of Dr.

and Mrs. Edmund Jacobsen of Chicago. A Harvard University graduate, he took his medical training at Johns Hopkins Medical School and is now a resident in surgery at the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco.

Following The Sun

Dick and Evelyn Zoellin, with their daughters Sylvia and Julie, headed their car for Palm Springs for some sun and relaxation after the rush of the holidays.

After dipping their fingers in the swimming pools of assorted motels, the Zoellins, who love to swim, decided to drive a little farther to Desert Hot Springs where nature keeps the pools bubbling hot. Before returning, they traveled to Ensenada to spice their vacation with a bit of Mexican flavor.

Happiness Is a New Baby

So reads the announcement of the birth of Paul David Everts, first child of Mr. and Mrs. Duke Everts, who arrived at Community Hospital on January 6 and, according to his father, has been eating everything in sight, including his blanket, ever since. "And believe us," continues Paul's birth announcement, "He didn't cost peanuts, either."

The new baby is the nephew of Miss Ann Flynn of Carmel.

Hawaii Was Restful

Dr. Eric Berne is back from a short stay on the Island of Hawaii, where he concentrated on doing nothing after having devoted the holidays to reading and correcting the galley proofs of his new book. Dr. Berne's "Games People Play," according to Time Magazine, was still on the non-fiction best seller list last week surpassed in sales, during 1965, only by the two books on John F. Kennedy.

A Wedding In The Future

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Ramoni of Carmel have announced the engagement of their daughter, Jan, to Clayton Hilbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Hilbert of Carmel.

The affianced pair revealed their betrothal at a family dinner during the Christmas holidays. Clayton, who recently enlisted in the U.S. Navy, has just reported to the Naval Training Center at San Diego and the couple's wedding plans will depend on his future assignment.

Jan, a Carmel High School graduate, is employed at the Carmel Rancho Pharmacy. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Mendonca of Big Sur and James Ramoni of Hollister.

Clayton, also a graduate of Carmel High, was employed as an apprentice with building contractor Dale Vandervort before joining the Navy. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence L. Benson of San Benancio Canyon and the nephew of Mrs. Harold Studevant of Carmel. His brother, Harrison, is a student at Idaho State University.

The Snow Was Great!

The Carmel area continues to be well represented on the ski slopes in various locations, California and otherwise. Aspen, Colorado, drew Mr. and Mrs. C. Mark Thomas, who spent a week there with three of their children, Ned, Sherry and Karen. Mrs. Linn Mack, who took her sons, Josh and Jeff, for a two-week holiday in that resort area, reports that Josh attended ski school and that all of them, with daily practice, were becoming pretty expert when they left. Also glimpsed at Aspen were Mr. and Mrs. Michael Gahagan (Annabelle Herbert), who were honeymooning there following their December wedding.

Mrs. Lorilott Clark and her son, Christopher, chose Alta, Utah, for a snowy vacation, returning last weekend for Christopher to resume school.

The Mapsteads Celebrated

That Sunday was the anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Mapstead was unknown to their guests until they saw the party table, massed with mixed flowers and centered with a wedding cake. A purple heart on the cake accompanied the inscription "To Ray—Awarded the Purple Heart for 25 Years of Valor and Battle Wounds Suffered in Marital Service," a loving message from his bride of a quarter of a century.

The Sunday open house, to which the Mapsteads invited 150 friends, served a triple purpose. The first was to christen their new home at Carpenter and First, and the second was to welcome home Kathy and Peter Chesebrough who, after two years in Honolulu, are now living in Vallejo where Peter is serving on the nuclear sub Swordfish at Mare Island.

A beautiful pair of sterling silver candelabra, the Mapsteads' children's gift to their parents, were placed as a part of the table decoration.

Family members, several of their young friends, and out-of-town guests all helped to make the celebration a success. The Mapsteads' sons, Randy and Noel, greeted callers and showed them through the house. Mrs. Mapstead's mother, Mrs. Lucial Oard, not only managed to see that the champagne punch bowl remained full and delicacies kept issuing from the kitchen but also managed to control the three poodles, Gigi, Lily and Peder, who were ecstatic with all the activity. Assisting Mrs. Oard in preparing and serving food to the guests were Mrs. Kay Macondray and her daughter, Elodie, and Jinx Smith, all of San Anselmo; Patsy Porter and Vicki Brinsmead of Carmel Valley, and Scott Hennessey of Carmel.

Clyn Smith Family Addition

On December 30, Dr. and Mrs. Clyn Smith of Rancho Rio Vista welcomed a new daughter, Pamela Kennard, who was born at Monterey Hospital.

Already nicknamed "Molly," she is the sister of Brian and Sharon Smith of Carmel and of Clyn Jr., who was home from Princeton for the Christmas holidays. Molly's grandparents are Dr. and Mrs. Horace Dormody of Carmel.

Jimmy Stole The Show

On Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. Van King reluctantly waved farewell to their ten-month-old grandson, James Blair Infantino, who has been the center of attention in their home since he arrived just before Christmas with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Infantino of New York. During their visit here, the former Linda King and her husband were widely entertained by Linda's friends. Family members who came from the San Francisco Bay area to greet them at Christmas and to see their young son were Mrs. C. Van King Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Harold I. Boucher and Mr. and Mrs. Dennis King.

Tennis In Palm Springs

The Tennis Club at Palm Springs will be headquarters this weekend for a large group of Pebble Beach Tennis Club members, who are flying to the desert resort tomorrow for a match with the host club. Social events planned for the visitors include a cocktail party and dinner at the Tennis Club tomorrow evening and a night "on the town" Saturday.

Among those making the trip are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ramsey Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Aime G. Michaud, Mr. and Mrs. Darius N. Keaton, Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Hill. Also, Mrs. Jane Brown Dunaway, Mrs. Virginia Baldwin, Miss Jennifer Harries, Yvan Nopert, William Fassett, Dudley Nix and Bertrand d'Avenas.

Margaret Ann Smith Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. D. George Smith of the Coast Route have announced the engagement of their daughter, Margaret Ann, to Thomas Scott Paine, son of Mrs. Delia Paine of Pebble Beach.

The young couple plan to be married on July 2.

Margaret, a 1961 graduate of Monterey High School, attended Monterey Peninsula College and is now employed as a secretary at the University of California, Berkeley. She is the sister of Thomas Smith, a student at U.C., and of John, Richard, Mary, Patricia and Joan Smith, all of the Coast.

A graduate of Junipero Memorial High School in Monterey, Tom attended Monterey Peninsula College and Sacramento State College. He is now enrolled at California State College in Hayward while serving with the U.S. Navy on the staff of the Naval Hospital in Oakland.

The Troskys Have A Boy

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Trosky are the proud parents of their first son, Adam Harold Arthur, whose name is going to be something of a challenge to his sister, Dominie, who will be two years old in May. Adam was born on December 28 at Community Hospital.

State Bar Appointees

The State Bar of California has appointed two local lawyers to the administrative committee for State Bar District No. 6. They are Milton W. Thompson and Elwood J. Wilson. Responsibilities of the two appointees are to consider complaints against lawyers accused of violating the bar's rules of professional conduct.

Travel Films Of Interest

Members of Church of the Wayfarer groups and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Don Roberts of Carmel Valley have been enjoying showings of pictures taken by the couple on their trip to Peru last summer when they visited their son, Warren. A horticultural advisor with the Peace Corps, Warren is now designing and planning three plazas in Lima. His first year with the Corps was spent in the mountains helping the Indians in planting and reforestation and for about five months he lived in a village situated in a high mountain valley. There, where a tremendous landslide had scoured the land, he supervised the planting of 52,000 eucalyptus seedlings.

Before entering the Peace Corps, Warren graduated from Monterey Peninsula College and attended the University of California at Davis.

During the Robertses' month in Peru, they also visited Cuzco and traveled to see Machu Picchu. On their return trip, they stopped in Guatemala and Mexico City.

Young Carmelite Engaged

A wedding late next summer is planned by Barbara Channer Vincent and Gerald Henares, whose engagement was announced recently by Barbara's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ridgely Vincent.

The bride-to-be grew up in Carmel, attending Sunset and Carmel High schools. Now a junior at San Francisco State College, she studied at the Danish Royal Conservatory of Music in Copenhagen, Denmark, also at Monterey Peninsula College. Barbara is the sister of David Ridgely Vincent of Sacramento, and of Peter and Patricia Vincent of Carmel.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas G. Henares of Carmel Knolls, Gerald has one brother, Nicholas G. Henares Jr., a student at San Francisco State College, and a sister, Dolores Henares of Carmel. He graduated from Monterey High School and attended Monterey Peninsula College, the University of Seville in Spain and San Francisco State. Gerry is now enrolled at the Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies.

Party Plans

By Phyllis Jervey

Last week we gave you a man's idea of a game dinner. Now we have the opposite approach! It is Lee Whitcomb, the informed wife of Dr. Dexter Whitcomb, well known local sportsman, who gives us her favorite pheasant menu.

Luckily pheasant may be hunted the year around at private shooting preserves. In Carmel Valley there are such places where penned birds are turned loose so that hunting dogs may be trained to flush them. The Whitcombs keep their ample freezer supplied with succulent pheasant for gala as well as family meals.

Lee Whitcomb has had wide experience in preparing the quota her energetic husband bags. Following is this game wife's version of "pheasants for peasants" (that is, even for such as you and me!)

PHEASANT DINNER

Tomato Aspic and Avocado Salad

Buttered sliced party rye bread

PHEASANT SUPREME

(Serves 4)

One 5 lb. dressed pheasant; salt, pepper, flour; butter or margarine; 1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup; 1 soup can filled with dry sauterne wine; ½ pint commercial sour cream.

Cut up pheasant, as chicken, in serving pieces with the breast quartered. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and dust with flour. In large cast iron skillet, melt butter or margarine. Brown the pieces lightly. Pour off drippings. Combine the soup, sauterne and sour cream. Pour this sauce over pheasant, cover with a tight-fitting lid and simmer on top of stove over low heat until tender. Serve on platter kept hot at table on electric warmer. Follow directions for wild rice on package. Double all recipes to serve a dinner party of eight.

HERBED STRINGBEANS

1 lb. fresh stringbeans; ¼ cup butter; ½ cup minced onion; ¼ garlic clove, minced; ¼ cup minced celery; ½ cup minced parsley; 1 tsp., each, fresh crumbled rosemary and basil or 1 tsp. dried fines herbes (mixed herbs); ½ tsp. salt.

In small saucepan melt butter, add onion, garlic and celery. Cook 5 minutes; add parsley, herbs and salt. Simmer 10 minutes. Mix with cooked stringbeans. To keep these bright green and crisp, cut the fresh beans diagonally across in 2-inch pieces. Cover with 1 inch boiling water, put on lid and boil gently 15 minutes. Drain and mix herbed butter sauce with beans. Let stand. Reheat just before serving in covered vegetable dish.

Everyone who has savored these two original dishes asks Lee for the recipes. So here they are!

Follow your pet recipe for tomato aspic, chill in ring mold until solid. Unmold and fill center with peeled sliced avocado and curly endive pieces, tossed in french dressing. Pass mayonnaise separately.

If you feel that fruit cake is too reminiscent of our recent holiday parties, serve a fruit sherbet with lemon wafers.

DR. WHITCOMB'S COOKER

And now to Dr. Whitcomb's special game cooker. Similar to a Chinese oven but far less expensive, it is made from a 55 gallon oil drum which is connected to a firebox by a length of 6-inch stove pipe.

The firebox is filled with good dry oakwood so there is very little smoke. If there is any, it will not be black or sooty and the birds cooked in this way will be golden brown. The dressed ducks, or other small game, are hung feet down on a hook some distance below the top.

Twenty ducks can be cooked at a time in the orange blast of hot air, not flame. It is intense full-blown heat, so much so that you cannot hold your hand over the top.

It takes about 40 minutes of this 400 degree F. heat to cook the game to perfection.

Ducks are marinated in Kikkoman soy sauce to form a delicious crust on the outside which keeps the birds moist, since the combination of high heat and marinade seals in the precious juices. Chicken, small turkeys, cornish hens, spare ribs and bandtailed wild pigeons, fed on madrone berries, are terrific cooked this way.

Dr. Whitcomb says that prime ribs of beef, basted with soya and turned on a grate on top of oil drum cooker, is out of this world. We readily believe him!

STEELHEAD ON THE BEACH

Being right up to the minute Dr. Whitcomb tells us about our current sea-run steelhead at the mouth of the Carmel River. These rainbow trout are a delicate salmon pink with the most subtle of flavors. Leave heads and tails on after cleaning and scaling the fish. Salt and pepper the insides, adding some cubed bacon. Top fish with strips of bacon. Put into double strength quilted broiling foil. Seal these "papillotes" and steam briefly in bed of red hot coals on beach. Test for doneness and never overcook. Eat with fork right in foil. Salt and pepper to

Peninsula Poet Publishes Verse

A small booklet of poetry by Phoebe W. Hoffman contains several poems originally printed in the Carmel Pine Cone. Mrs. Hoffman, a former resident of Carmel Valley, now lives at Canterbury Woods in Pacific Grove.

Titled "Charlatan and Other Poems," this collection displays Mrs. Hoffman's sensitivity to the countryside, the seasons, birds, animals and flowers. Her human understanding also shows in her verse, the form of which is deftly handled.

Besides the Pine Cone, the poems in Mrs. Hoffman's booklet have appeared in the New York Times, the American Bard, the Brighter Side, Peninsula Poets, the Muse and Wings, South and West.

taste. Do not destroy with sauces. Serve with watercress sprigs and cherry tomatoes.

In summertime, Dr. Whitcomb and companion sportsmen fly their cooperative plane to Montana for super trout casting and eating. There are also all-male trips in station wagons when Labrador retrievers go along to Nevada for Chukar (red-billed) partridge. Superb fare!

Does Mrs. Whitcomb complain? Not when such trophy is her pleasant lot to cook and serve at home. You see, Lee is planning a cookbook about game cuisine. If anyone knows by trial and error how to prepare these offerings from the wild blue yonder, the distaff side of the Whitcomb menage knows the answers.

But don't forget that Dexter demands the essence of simplicity when it comes to camp cookery. No fancy garnitures for him!

A Small Church In A Small Town Provided Christmas Joy For Fatherless Vietnamese Families

Appreciation of gifts from the Sunday school children of All Saints' Episcopal Church to Vietnamese widows and their children in Saigon was received this week by the Reverend David Hill from Captain Peter Dawkins, famed West Point football player, later a Rhodes scholar at Oxford University in England. He is now stationed in Viet Nam as advisor to the First Vietnamese Airborne Battalion.

Captain Dawkins studied Vietnamese at the Defense Language Institute on the Peninsula and knew Father Hill and his family during this period.

As a result of the Sunday school children's efforts, Father Hill sent $25, clothing and candy to Viet Nam. Following is Captain Dawkins' account of the distribution of these gifts.

"There are so many people and groups in this war-torn land who are genuinely in need that it was a difficult decision to choose just who should be the recipients of All Saints' thoughtful Christmas remembrance. Partly because of the pressure of many responsibilities and also because I felt them a wholly worthy group, I chose to direct your assistance to the widows and families of men of the First Vietnamese Airborne Battalion who had been killed on the battlefield in the past year.

"As advisor to this battalion, I have gotten to know these women well and come to fully appreciate the burden which a young widow with several children faces in this country where war has made mere survival a frightening challenge.

"This group consists of some 44 families with 164 children. I bought many small toys with the $25—dolls, tops, airplanes, cars, balls, etc. With these, plus the clothes and candy you sent, the wives of the battalion wrapped up 44 family 'packages.'

"On the afternoon of December 24, we were fortunately in Saigon, the home camp of the battalion, after 10 days near the Cambodian border, so we had a ceremony where all the 44 families gathered together with the officers of the battalion.

"I made some brief comments in Vietnamese trying to explain to these families that the gifts were a small gesture of concern and brotherhood from the men and women of a small church in a small town in California... men and women who feel compassion and love for the people of Vietnam.

"Then we handed out the presents to each of the families and it made my Christmas a real joy.

"Because of all the confusion, I forgot my camera, which was a sin, because it was one of those occasions—all too rare in one's life—where human joy is plainly visible.

"I want to thank you and the people of All Saints' Church for making the Christmas season a sincerely happy one for this group of people who have borne the terrible price of a 'people's war'; and also for making a truly Merry Christmas for one American advisor in Vietnam.

"In the past few months there has developed a refreshing feeling amongst the American soldiers in Viet Nam that their country is behind them. This is a sweeping change from the attitude which prevailed when I first arrived here, and is a great contribution to the effort.

"Undoubtedly, there is still grave concern about this confrontation in many people's minds, but the confidence that, in an overall sense, their country is supporting them, is vital to the American fighting men in Viet Nam.

"Keep up the great work.

Yours,
Peter."

Rick Morse Directs New Production At White Oaks Theatre

Billed as a "funny-sad revue," the theatrical adaptation of John Dos Passos' "U.S.A." opens at White Oaks Theatre in Carmel Valley tomorrow for a six-week run on Fridays and Saturdays at 8:30 p.m. through February 19.

"U.S.A.," which spans the years before, during and after World War I, is a chronicle of those American times.

Artistic director Gale Peterson has choreographed and will perform, with Dale Morse, a number of dances depicting a gamut of rages in vogue between 1890 and 1930.

Rick Morse is directing "U.S.A." and portraying J. Ward Moorehouse, a man of the times. Company members Paul Wagner, Jon Bankson, Ron Stark, Tracy Carr, Mary Pattie, and Karen Kondan each handle a variety of roles ranging from famous politicians to unknown soldiers, east coast debutantes to midwestern housewives.

Costumes epitomizing the era have been designed and executed by Corliss Nickerson. Technical effects are being handled by scenic designer Joan Larkey.

Following the weekend opening, Miss Larkey will speak on "Tech-

One Call Per Day Is Ambulance Average

The Red Cross ambulance, operated by the Carmel Volunteer Fire Department, made an average of one call a day during 1965. Volunteers who man the ambulance are called upon day or night to answer emergency calls.

According to statistics presented by the Carmel chapter of the American Red Cross, these volunteers responded to the following number of calls: Paul Artellan, 113; James R. Belvail, 134; Tom Broadbent, 111; Jim Cardwell, 104; Charles Grimshaw, 108; John Hicks, 131; Bill Hill, 163; Erik Jensen, 87; Lee McGuckin, 89; Merle Murphy, 157; and Robert Updike, 89.

At least two firemen accompany the ambulance on each call. Both must have had first aid training and, by law, one must hold an advanced certificate in first aid.

nical Aspects of Theatre," Sunday afternoon at 4:30 p.m., as part of the winter season lecture series sponsored by the White Oaks Theatre Guild and offered free of charge to the public.

Textbook By Carmel Resident Published

"Principles of Grammar," a college workbook written by Dr. Idelle Sullens, a resident of Carmel, was published this week by Prentice-Hall Inc.

A large paperback, the book will be used in Dr. Sullens' English 55 classes in the Spring semester at Monterey Peninsula College, as well as in an evening class instructed by August Armanasco.

Dr. Sullens has been teaching grammar since 1956, when she was an instructor at Stanford University. "From then until now, I have used some seven different texts, all of them too long. So, I began condensing, distilling, summarizing. 'Principles of Grammar' is the result," she says.

An anthology of readings for English 55 classes, on which Dr. Sullens is collaborating with MPC English instructors Edith Karas and Raymond Fabrizio, is due to go to a publisher in June. During a sabbatical leave next year, she will complete work on a humanities text and another book on Robert Mann of Brunne (1303).

From A Librarian's Notebook

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg, City Librarian

"A CONCISE HISTORY OF BALLET" is a small book packed with information and, according to the jacket blurb, it has 16 color illustrations and 216 black and whites. It was written by Ferdinando Reyna who begins tracing the history of ballet from its beginnings in fifteenth century Italy and brings it down through the years to ballet today both abroad and in this country. The book is interesting also for the dancing costumes it shows.

Lee Strasberg began tape recording his training sessions at the famous Actors Studio in 1956.

These recordings have been edited by Robert Hethmon and gathered into a book entitled "STRASBERG AT THE ACTORS STUDIO." For anyone interested in theatre or planning to go into acting, this book should prove a gold mine. There is one short section of photographs. This librarian would have enjoyed more of them.

Paul Tournier is a Swiss doctor who recognizes the comingling of mind and body as a cause of disease and thus as a strong factor in the treatment and cure of disease. He says "All men are struggling more or less consciously with personal problems which have a considerable influence on their health—conflicts, rebellions, negative attitudes, moral failings and spiritual anxieties." Dr. Tournier has a new book filled with case histories, which is entitled "THE HEALING OF PERSONS."

"GUMP'S TREASURE TRADE" has been revised and brought up to date by Carol Wilson of San Francisco. It is not only the story of the fabulous store but also the story of its founders and the present owner, Richard Gump. There are color illustrations, some of them showing the almost priceless jade for which the store has long been known.

For sixty years a British curate named William Keble Martin studied plants and made meticulous drawings of them. During his college years he studied botany and his drawings of flowers have that delicate technique learned in botany classes. Comes now his "CONCISE BRITISH FLORA IN COLOR." This is a rather astounding book, for it contains nearly 1,400 species illustrated in color with names and expository notes. Not only will it be received joyfully by botanists but such also should be the reception by British people living here who enjoy browsing through a book showing the flowers they loved while living in England.

Those of us who loved "A Ring of Bright Water," and that includes just about all of us, will also enjoy "THE HOUSE OF EL RIG" by the same author, Gavin Maxwell. The house was in Scotland and it was there that this thoroughly kind young man spent his earliest years. This is the story of his youth and it is illustrated with many photographs and in almost all of them there are pets, birds, goats, dogs, anything that the children could tame and love. This is must reading for all Maxwell fans.

Sir Tyrone Guthrie has a new book entitled "IN VARIOUS DIRECTIONS." It is a collection of articles on various phases of theatre today, including television. Very interesting, well done and illustrated with photographs.

There is always fiction in our weekly collection, with mysteries. Thank goodness for the mysteries. There are never enough of the good ones for those of us who love them, and many of us do just that. Including myself.

ORDINANCE NO. 38

FIXING CONTRIBUTION IN CASES WHERE SEWAGE DISPOSAL BURDEN IS INCREASED (LAND NOW IN DISTRICT)

WHEREAS, the Carmel Sanitary District has constructed a sewage treatment plant with its necessary appurtenances and from time to time has made additions thereto and

WHEREAS, sewers and sewer appurtenances have also been constructed and installed by said district, and

WHEREAS, land now in the district has been assessed to pay the costs of the aforesaid improvements to the district or has paid a pro-rata share of the cost of said improvements as determined by the board of the District, and

WHEREAS, lands now in the district may be further divided or rezoned so that when additional improvements are made thereon there is an increase in the number of plumbing fixtures and attending burden of sewage disposal; and

WHEREAS, the present improvements on land may be altered so that there is an increase in the number of plumbing fixtures, and

WHEREAS, the increase in plumbing fixtures results in an increase in the burden of sewage disposal, and

WHEREAS, it is just and equitable that where improvements are made, that increase the burden of sewage disposal, the land involved should be assessed by the board to pay the increased cost of disposal;

NOW, THEREFORE, the Board of the Carmel Sanitary District does ordain as follows:

Section 1: DEFINITIONS

REAL PROPERTY: Land that is improved or unimproved by dwellings.

DWELLING ACCESSORY: a subordinate building the use of which is incidental to that of a single family dwelling on the same building site, lot or parcel of land.

DWELLING, ONE FAMILY: a detached building designed for, or occupied by one family.

BUSINESS AREA: All real property in the district other than land in the residential zones.

GARAGE, PRIVATE: An accessory building.

GUEST HOUSE: Detached living quarters of a permanent type of construction and without kitchen or kitchen equipment.

IMPROVEMENT: Dwelling or building of any kind constructed on land.

DISPOSAL PLANT: Plant for treatment of raw sewage and disposal of effluent.

PLANT FACILITIES: Pumping plants, connecting sewers and plumbing fixture sewer appurtenances as defined in Ordinance No. 34.

INSPECTOR means District Inspector.

FIXTURE UNITS: Lavatory and toilet or equivalent combination.

UNIT FOR THE MEASUREMENT OF SEWAGE DISPOSAL CONTRIBUTION, hereafter called "unit": One family dwelling, dwelling accessory private garage and guest house.

Seat as defined in the latest edition of the uniform building code.

SECTION 2: That where land is vacant at the time of the passage of this ordinance and it is outside the business area and later improvements are made thereon, the inspector shall use as his basis for determining sewage disposal a residential site equivalent whereon there is a one family dwelling, dwelling accessory private garage and guest house; said site is considered hereafter as one unit for the measurement of sewage disposal contribution.

One lot in the business area of the District is considered hereafter as two units for the measurement of sewage disposal contribution.

Whenever construction occurs at a later date on property now in the district and the number of units allotted to property heretofore set forth is exceeded then a contribution to offset the increased cost of sewage disposal shall be determined by the Board and paid by the property owner. The inspector of the district is hereby designated as the representative of the board and it shall be his duty to report the number of units required for new construction and remodeling or alteration of improvements and the amount to be paid to the district as a contribution.

The following unit schedule will control in measuring sewage burden contribution:

Single family dwelling—1.0 unit per dwelling

Multiple family dwelling — 0.6 units per dwelling

Apartment housing — 0.6 units per dwelling

Hotels & motor lodges — 0.4 units per dwelling

Stores, offices, general business — 2.5 fixture units per unit

Restaurants — 20 seats per unit

Tavern—30 seats per unit

Theater—50 seats per unit

Section 3: The unit charge for sewage disposal contribution shall be $250.00.

Section 4: The amount of the contribution is to be paid before a permit for connection to the district sewage system will be allowed.

Section 5: This ordinance does not apply when the land owner has by contract with the board of the district established the amount of contribution to be paid.

Section 6: That the charge hereunder is separate and distinct from the contribution established by Ordinances 33 and 35.

Section 7: This ordinance repeals all ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith.

Section 8: This ordinance shall be in full force and effect one week from the date of its publication.

Passed and adopted by the Board of the Carmel Sanitary District at a regular meeting this 11th day of January, 1966, by the following vote:

Board members, also, stated their reasons for support of the proposed increase. President Robert E. Newton said that it became apparent last Spring that funds were insufficient to do what the board felt should be done and that additional lacks had been pointed out by the citizens committees on curriculum. The citizens committee on finance after months of deliberation, recommended a 77-cent increase in the tax limit in order to finance the present and future programs. "If we do not ask for a tax raise," Dr. Newton concluded, "we shall certainly have to do things the community would not approve."

Trustee Hilton Bialek outlined the "ideal" program that he, as a conscientious board member, would like to have and voiced the hope that it will not become necessary to choose between vocational or academic emphasis in the schools.

Mrs. Roxana Blanks and Steven Sassoon agreed with other board members that the burden on the taxpayer is heavy but that the community is not a typical one and demands more than just adequate education for its children.

Noted News Analyst To Discuss Asia In Carmel Tomorrow Night

"American Policy in Asia, a Critical View," is the title of the talk which William Winter, noted news analyst, will give tomorrow evening at 8 p.m. in Sunset Center auditorium under the auspices of the World Affairs Council of the Monterey Peninsula. This talk will be open to the public without charge.

Mr. Winter was born in Newark, New Jersey, in 1925. When he was 20 years old he became the youngest practicing attorney in the United States. Five years later he headed the trial department of a large corporation in New York. He was 30 years old when he became a radio news analyst.

Shortly before Pearl Harbor, Mr. Winter was the first Voice of America broadcaster by short wave to Asia. Soon afterwards, he covered World War II fighting in the Pacific as a war correspondent.

Later he reported the United Nations Charter Conference in San Francisco, also the Korean War. Ten years ago, William Winter joined the American Broadcasting Company as a radio and television news analyst.

Mr. Winter also will speak in the Monterey Peninsula College library patio tomorrow noon on "Viet Nam: A Reply to the State Department Spokesman."

The lecture has been arranged by MPC political science instructor Jack Leach for his classes, but the public is invited to be present.

The "State Department spokesman" to whom Winter refers in his topic is John Everts Horner, who spoke at MPC early in December.

Art News . . .

Monday evening, Robert Davey was chosen to head the Carmel Art Association for 1966. He was selected as president by this year's board of directors at the annual membership meeting of the association.

First, second and third vice presidents, respectively, are Clarence Bates, Joe Ataide and Jesse Corsaut. Edward Ward is treasurer for this year; Sophie Harpe, recording secretary.

Additional new board members elected are Louise Cardero Boyer, Gene Elmore and Marlinde von Ruhs. Holdover directors are Edith Dinkin, Betty Harrington, Charles Thomas, Elwood Graham, Arch Garner and Victor di Gesu.

Mr. Davey succeeds John Cunningham who was last year's president.

The Carmel Foundation Town House is showing paintings by Barbara West and woodcarvings done by members of the wood carving class at Town House, under the direction of General A. T. Mason, during the month of January.

Barbara West was born in London, England, where she worked in theatre for many years. In Vancouver, Canada, she studied painting with Varley of the famous "Group of Seven," in San Francisco with Dong Kingman and in Carmel with John and Patricia Cunningham. She has exhibited in Vancouver and San Francisco and recently won an award at the Los Angeles Madonna Festival.

Mrs. West is a member of the Carmel Art Association where she recently had a one-man show.

A memorial art exhibit is being held through January in the galleries of the Santa Cruz Art League. Over 50 canvases by 16 eminent artists, loaned by family and friends, will be exhibited in memory of members who contributed much to the early history of the league and the culture of the community.

Rosemary Miner of Carmel, noted for her marine oils, will have her work exhibited in the central gallery at Villa Montalvo in Saratoga from February 5-27. Mrs. Miner has studied locally

Audubon Society Meets Tomorrow

The January general meeting of the Monterey Peninsula Audubon Society will be held in the music room at Carmel High School tomorrow evening at 8 p.m. Miss Beatrice Howitt, who traveled in Africa and Australia last year from August until September, will show pictures of African wildlife. Refreshments will be served during the social period following the program.

Captain Elgin B. Hurlbert, Audubon Society president, will lead a field trip to the Arroyo Seco area of Los Padres National Forest on Monday. Persons planning to attend are asked to bring their lunch. Meeting place will be the area on the west side of the bridge over Arroyo Seco at the entrance to the forest picnic grounds.

On Wednesday, the society's bird-a-month study group will meet at 10 a.m. in Pacific Grove at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Herring. Hawks and kites will be discussed.

FABULOUS OCEAN VIEWS

That word "fabulous", overworked as it may be, is still the only adequate adjective for the panoramic views of the sea (complete with whales this week) offered by these homes:

IN PEBBLE BEACH

With a head-on view of Pt. Lobos, we have the handsomest English house in the area. Traditional English in its appealing architecture, but luxurious American in its interior styling and glamorous appointments. It's a home for very particular people who appreciate and can afford the best. The price is $168,500.

CARMEL HIGHLANDS

Ocean view from every window, yet it's designed and built to keep you warm and cozy while you watch the whales or the beautiful moonlight on our January surf. Walls are softly rubbed paneling, carpets and drapes first quality. 3 bedrooms and 2 baths, or 2 bedrooms and a study, for only $55,000. Compare. It's a real bargain.

CARMEL HIGHLANDS

Also on the ocean side of the highway, but well secluded from the road, a house that's really ideal for your part-time residence and a rented room on a different level for a caretaker, or it's equally great for a small family. On a full acre, too, with decks on the ocean side. You'll love the huge fireplace and the compact, efficient kitchen. Priced at $65,000 with very good terms available.

SUR COAST

Actually, if you and your friends want to escape from the madding crowd down to the beautiful, rugged Sur Coast, consider well this property near the Coast Gallery with TWO hideaway homes on it, cleverly designed homes on earthy, native materials. There would be no more delightful retreat from this troubled world. Priced at $66,500—and we repeat: ideal for two families to go together and buy.

Carmel Rides P.G. Breakers With 2nd Quarter Comeback

BY CHRIS LAIOLO, MARK CZIRBAN AND RUSTY VANDEVORT

The Carmel Padres varsity basketball team came from eight points behind in the first quarter to a four-point halftime lead and from there stayed ahead to beat the Pacific Grove varsity by a score of 65-55 on Friday night.

The junior varsity shut out P.G. during a three-minute overtime period and scored three points to take an exciting 42-39 point game. Marc Johnson grabbed high point honors for Carmel with 11 baskets. Bill Hutchinson was close behind with 9 points. Hoffman tallied 15 for P.G.

The lightweights, up against a much bigger team, lost 50-36. For Carmel, Jack Campbell took the high point total with 11. Ron Parsons had ten and Doug Hill pushed through 9. For P.G. Chandler hit 12 and Berg 11.

The Carmel varsity got off to a slow start in the first quarter. In the second quarter, the Padres staged a terrific comeback with Ty "Hands" Seeders on offense and Jerry "Batman" Forsman playing his typically good game on defense. At the end of the first quarter Carmel was on the wrong end of a 13-5 score but by the end of the first half was ahead 25-22.

The third quarter was a high scoring one and ended 44-39 for Carmel. It was highlighted by Bob Fonseca's fine shooting. He received Carmel's top honors with 15 points. Doug Adams' "delicate drives" at Breaker baskets resulted in his getting 14 points. Craig "Butch" Cunningham rang up 12 points during the game.

The Padres built up a bigger lead in the fourth quarter but the Breakers began to pick away at it with their full-court press. An outstanding P.G. player was Dennis Garrett who got high point game honors with 28 tallies. Towards the end of the game Garrett stole a Padre pass and was wide open all the way from half-court. He got to the basket but couldn't decide from which side to lay it up so leaped high and "stuffed" the ball through the hoop, a feat that has not been seen in this league for some time.

The victory was pleasing for Coach Jason Harbert and his charges and helped mitigate the football fiasco with P.G. last fall.

Charles E. McEwen, one of the above directors, strongly supported the window lighting suggestion. He definitely wanted to see utility poles disappear in the business zone and even more decidedly did not want them replaced with any type of lighting poles and urged the privilege of a trial period next weekend.

August Nieto, realtor and owner of business premises, stated that many Carmel landowners had developed their property in keeping with "the theme of Carmel" with walks and malls. Lighting in such developments was planned to enhance architecture, trees, color and design.

"I would hate to see standardized poles of whatever kind with lights so strange, so cold," he emphasized. Dark alleyways and passages could be illuminated by property owners was his proposal. Other lighting of business premises would provide necessary street illumination of "a beautiful, mellow glow."

BRACKETS ON BUILDINGS

William Sefton, a motel owner, referred to a letter sent to the city council by the Carmel Motel Association in which uniform street lighting provided by each merchant attractively lighting store windows was favored. He was sure lights on brackets placed on commercial buildings would sufficiently augment window lights to desirably illuminate the business area.

Donald W. Berry said that he had come from brightly lit Sacramento to live in Carmel because he "liked it as it was." He advocated no street lighting except bracket lights on buildings and window illumination.

Ashton Stanley, an innkeeper, urged all businesses in Carmel to unite in a common effort to try to prevent installation of street lights by adopting the illuminated window proposal.

"Lights on standards would be a tragedy. Give serious consideration to what has been proposed tonight before doing anything drastic," Mr. Stanley concluded.

Mrs. John Zack favored brackets on buildings.

CAN'T BE DONE

Dale Leidig, oldtimer who operates a service station, said he was definitely against great illumination of Carmel. He was in favor of merchants and property owners providing window illumination "if it can be done." However, human nature being what it is, Mr. Leidig was doubtful that such lighting would be a lasting and satisfactory solution. He was positive, after talking to many citizens, that without exception they were against bright illumination, as were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Leidig and his uncle, Robert Leidig, business property owners. Mr. Leidig advocated some form of low street illumination provided by the city.

tractor, concurred with Mr. Leidig in respect to the dubiousness of merchants and property owners providing permanent lighting.

Gene Ricketts spoke in agreement with the lantern lights proposed by Mr. Darnton, but was opposed to "a whole lot" of light. Wallace Doolittle thought this type of street illumination might be a happy compromise between what the council approved in October and what businessmen proposed last night.

KLENKE COMMITTEE

Carvel Baldwin, chairman of the Klenke Committee which has opposed the 30-foot high lights and delayed the council's approving installation of this type of illumination, spoke favorably about the lantern lights on 12-foot poles. He said they were aesthetically attractive and would be "most acceptable to the people of Carmel." Mr. Baldwin was sure that it would be impossible to enforce any lighting method employing store windows and brackets on buildings.

Mr. Nieto, at this point, again protested the cluttering of Carmel's sidewalks with light poles, except one at each intersection.

ments committee recommended the 30-foot high standards with lights on overhanging arms, in a report. This report was adopted by the council in October.

"We are here tonight to find out what YOU want," he continued.

Earlier, Mr. Buffington stated that Police Chief Clyde Klaumann does not mind whether street lights are installed or not. He is convinced his men can do as good a job as ever without lighting.

Mr. Buffington also said that William L. Askew Jr., street superintendent, had suggested that any light standards also could be used to hold parking signs now installed on separate sidewalk standards.

Last night's discussion will be conveyed by Mr. Buffington and Mr. Grant to the city council in a report at a coming council meeting.

"It will be quite a time yet before the council acts," Mr. Buffington predicted.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

"Life," one of the key terms through which Christian Scientists seek a deeper understanding of the nature of God, is the subject of this week's Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches. Other key synonyms for God to be taken up in succeeding weeks are: Truth, Love, Spirit, Soul, Mind.

"Ignorance of God is no longer the stepping-stone to faith," states the denomination's textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. "The only guarantee of obedience is a right apprehension of Him whom to know aright is Life eternal."

The Golden Text is from I John and reads: "This is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and this life is in his Son."
